

Places of worship

Churches

- There are many different types of Christianity and so there are lots of different types of church.
- Some are very basic e.g. a Methodist chapel and some are very large and impressive e.g. St Paul's Cathedral. Catholic churches tend to be very decorative, with lots of statues and pictures. Anglican churches are usually simpler.
- Different types of churches have different names e.g. chapel, meeting room (Quaker).

Buddhist temples

- Buddhist temples are designed to inspire inner and outer peace.
- They symbolize the elements: Fire, Air, Water, Earth and Wisdom. Worship involves chanting, lighting candles and giving offerings to the statue or picture of the Buddha.

Pilgrimages

Buddhist pilgrims travel in simple clothes, like the Buddha. They often wear a cloth gown and sandals and carry a walking stick. They will walk long distances and offer prayer to the Buddha on their pilgrimage or visit shrines and monasteries, where they give gifts to the monks. They also meditate silently to remove their minds from the world around them. Walking and giving are very important aspects of Buddhism.

Key Vocabulary

Siddhartha Gautama	Birth name of the Buddha chanting	Speak in a sing-song voice enlightenment	Realising the truth about life meditation	Focussing or emptying your mind to be calm monasteries	Religious buildings where monks live chapel	Small building or room used for Christian worship cathedral	Main church in a Christian religious area
Catholic	A type of Christianity
Anglican (Protestant)	A type of Christianity